

A notice about your Stash Advisory Agreement

Hi Stashers,

We're writing to provide a notice related to your Stash Advisory Agreement.

In February, we announced that Stash signed agreements to become a part of Grab (Nasdaq: GRAB), Southeast Asia's leading superapp. The deal is expected to mark an exciting new chapter for Stash.

Rest assured that Grab's acquisition will not affect how you use Stash or how we serve you. We will keep operating independently in the U.S., offering the services you know and trust to help you save, invest, and build long-term wealth.

As we move through the regulatory approval process for the acquisition, applicable securities laws consider this change an "assignment" of your existing Advisory Agreement with Stash Investment LLC. This means we are required to obtain your consent for your Advisory Agreement to continue.

If you wish to continue using Stash, no action is needed on your part. You will be deemed to have consented to the assignment of your Advisory Agreement if we do not hear from you within 45 days of receiving this email. Thank you for choosing us to help you build your financial future.

If you do not wish to keep using Stash, please contact support@stash.com. In that case, we will assist you in closing your account with us.

Thank you for the trust you've placed in us. We're excited for what's ahead.

The Stash Team